CONFUSION -- CHAOS OR COMMUNICATION -- CO -- OPERATION

As we look around the world today and review the number of organisations devoted to the research and investigation of the U.FO. one cannot be a little perturbed at the great deal of apparent confusion that exists in the many varied approaches , methods, interpretations of the intriguing subject. In fact it is quite openly acknowledged that in many cases it appears that some are in direct contrast to the other almost to the point of being anti this or that phase of the subject .

But should this apparent confusion lead to chaos? Or is it necessary? I feel that after having spent nearly ten years at it, that it rather tends for the betterment of all. for after all it must be honestly admitted that we are literally not dealing with things of this world or its laws or conceptions, but definately things " out of this world " hence it is by no means surprising that we find such a divergence of opinion. for how can it be otherwise expected when man is attempting to understand the essence of things beyond his normal conception . for we have so little to turn of a perfectly reliable standard as a guide. for even our scientific text books have proved within the last ten years or more. that they too have had to alter so many of their preconceived ideas. and in some cases completely reverse their previous opinions. hence is it any wonder that the ordinary investigators who come from all classes of the community should find themselves working at it somewhat "in the dark" and each coming up with a little bit of the jig - saw puzzle. The sad mistake is that they all mostly think that their little piece is the whole picture. or the ultimate answer. This may appeal to their egos , but it can hardly be accepted as logical in such a wide open subject as this.

Surely this little illustration can be the very answer to the confusion , in that if they all were to realise that each have a PORTION of the answer. that instead of trying to decry the other fellows point of view, they were to get together more and compare things, they would surely find that their little piece fitted into the others, or that it belonged to another corner of the picture. for after all, maybe like the picture, all the parts do not have trees in it. some belong to the sky. some to the fields. others to the people in the tapestry of the theme. hence just because my part does not altogether fit into Joe's sky, should I cast it away as useless? Or if Tom's part of a tree does not have the same colouring as the piece I have of a tree, must I say "his is not a tree??. but rather to have the commonsense to admit that it could be another tree somewhere close at hand or in another part of the panorama.

Surely is it not just this just pure egotistical arrogance to conclude that we or they have all the answers?. and when considered in its true light is just the reason and cause of the " confusion " and if persisted in too far could and will lead to chaos among the workers who seek for the true answer. Nothing but chaos can be the ultimate. whilst we are foolish enough to consider that any ONE group and sections of Groups have all the answers, the answer will be found in the reverse approach. COMMUNICATION AND CO-OPERATION .

It is an established law that binds society together in and as a co-hesive force. that communication with each must prevail. Once this bond of relationship is severed. then the way is made open for hates. resentments , misunderstandings. and WAR , and the final result CHAOS.

The history of all our sad worlds dark pages of war. have all begun with the loss of friendly communication with the other party. mostly due to the fact that we have been unwilling to see the other fellows point of view. or by one party taking the stand that they are all right and the other fellow all wrong. and has it not been the trend of the last two decades to endeavour to establish " friendly relation" or communication with the other folk ? This does not mean that it is always possible to maintain such . for it only means one side to fail to keep up the friendly relations, and the whole law of communication is endangered. for you cant co-operate with a man who refuses to "talk it over with you". Lose communication with him and you lay the way open for disaster to your cause to set in .

Surely then the lesson we can learn from other facets of life is one we can and should take to heart as we try to progress in a search of TRUTH. That if we are to Conquer we must work together and never sever the line of communication even if the other fellows point of view we find hard to accept. at least we must try to find a ground where we can work together in Co-operation with him , each giving the other the credit for an honest approach and his inherent right to his opinion. and agreeing to happily disagree where we cannot find a mutual ground for cohesion. but never forgetting that it is highly possible that his " piece " may also somehow fit into the great picture of which if we are truly honest with ourselves we have only a few small pieces anyhow. and humbly admit that surely they do not make a complete picture.

What if you cannot accept the contactee stories. or may be only some of them, or even part of them, does this give you the right to slay the other fellow with harsh criticism . ?. Maybe he can see flaws in your arguments for factual evidence. . Because you cannot conceive of metaphysical phenomena in relation to the " saucers" Does that mean that because YOU have said its all bosh, it is so?. If every one were to be adamant that they are right and the other fellow wrong because he has views which they cannot accept. then the state of society today would crumble overnight. Is it not the " tolerance" we allow or should allow to each other. that has been the medium by which we have kept a stabilised state of community life. Hence let us strive to more than ever concede a little more tolerance to the other fellows views and strive to find a means by which his views may even if only very indirectly , fit into our won. and even if we have to admit that t ey are so wide aprt ,as to find a solution for compatibleness, then at lest accede the feat that it maybelong to a class of which we have little knowledge, or better still admit that what we do have is to small to claimas the full answer and that the whole problem is too vast to consider that one school of thought could be completely right .

After all does ~~it~~ is not show us our need for a little more humility, rather than a high handed arrogance of " I am so right, Thou art so wrong"

No army can be without its varuois sections of operation . maybe the infrantry may claim to do all the dirty work. and the Intelligence claim to have all the brains. ???? but we all know that no victory is won without every section playing its part under the command of its leaders.

Likewise to Conquer . we must maintain Communication. and Co-operation. if we oo are to Conquer. for will not our critics and enemies use this very weakness of ours Confusion to act as a weapon against us. and thus destroy whatever Unity may exist amongst us.

I know of groups who despite every effort to keep communication and co-opation flowing between myself. still refuse to give even a courteous reply even general correspondence. that it seems like hitting oneself against a brick wall. such actions could be caused by many things, but one thing is sure. it does them no good or me. and the cause in general suffers greatly because as a section of the worlds investigators. we are not presenting the whole picture from our side , but only a distorted one warped by misunderstanding and lack of communication with each other . and definately weakening our cause in our own country.

I am well aware that such exists in other countries too. and in some cases the main cause for such is that petty jealousies exist. and one crowd is frightened that the other group will be stronger than they. and benefit by any communication or exchange. and so personal ambitions and aggrandisement creep in to such an extent that the whole framework of the structure is weakened and laid open for attack by the critics and enemies of the U.F.O. cause.

I do not know where you personally fit into this picture. or where your group stand in relationship to a general effort to unite and co-operate with each other more. but I do know that unless we rid ourselves of this confusion of misunderstanding each other. and refuse to endeavour to communicate and co-operate with each other more. then the inevitable is certain , we will not attain the knowledge we seek and are so anxious to obtain.

To those who claim to believe in the " brothers from space" and their teachings, and who accept the contactee stories at least in part,must surely know that one thing above all that will disqualify us from ever obtaining greater enlightenment from them , or being accepted by them as co-partners in the work of helping humanity. will be this very lack of willingness to keep an open mind to each other and the flow of communication in friendly relationship uppermost. so better expressed in the terms Brotherly love. without which we willnot be qualified to enter the New Age which so many claim to teach and believe in . What side are you on.? CONFUSION AND CHAOS. OR COMMUNICATION AND CO-OPERATION. WHICH LEADS US TO CONQUER . ???.

We have been asked to publish the following letter from our old friend and close associate. Pastor Reg. A. Bradbury .

Our readers may not all agree with the views expressed therein , but as usual we publish everything in an open mind approach . and leave it to you to accept or reject .

Dear Brother Stone,

I have just been studying your excellant edition of Dec 1962 A.S.R. Your own forecasts for 1963, The remarkable letter as quote from page 3 onwards , and also "Alamars' " Forecast for 1963.

There are prophetic reasons for believing that 1963 and the years up to 1966 may prove of outstanding significance ...In the hope that this letter will arrive in time for inclusion in your next issue- I propose to quote you the remarkable warnings given in Watch THIS Year as sent to me by The Aetherius Society , London. Eng . and to post on to you the full text .

As far back as Dec. 1957, The Cosmic Voice, dated Dec. No. 13- published an Outer Space warning from a Space Intelligence. as follows--

" Unless you are willing to show tolerance to each other , decisions made during May, June, July 1963 could lead to a military clash within a short period of the decisions being made " .
( Note the reference to " tolerance " and compare with the Editorial which was typed out before receiving the letter . Editor )

With the Cuban and Indian- Chinese : The European Common Market, and the Middle Eastern questions etc , still being in the balance- your own forecast , plus the above warnings- surely give us grave grounds for WATCHING 1963...

Furthermore in the light of the prophetic warnings of Holy writ, and the Great Pyramids, plus the Australian Saucer Editor's warnings of weather upheavals - the unusual and world -wide disturbances of the wind, waves , and weather are yet another indication of the fact that Planet Earth is about to experience the birth-pangs of tribulation , and the grave " Time of Jacob's Trouble " ( which depicts Israel as a woman in travail ) - are the promised DIVINE DELIVERANCE for which, in due season, all nations will look...

Britain's own snow blitz proceeding even as I write, could well be the precursor of greater weather trials to come .. I am myself now staying in SIDMOUTH, Devon, as my own cottage has been snowed-up by drifts barring access by road and to my office -home, and even after one month of this extremely cold weather - roads are icy and dangerous to traffic - in the off- beat villages.

An old and veteran student of prophecy , who was also a skilled student of astrology , and who lived until the age of 94 in this house where I am typing this letter - before he passed on , gave my friends here the grave warning of things to come as they might well affect this old Motherland of England, He saw the whole of Northern England devastated, particularly in the county of Yorkshire.

This vision which occurred to Mr Howard , just prior to his death greatly disturbed him , and for two whole days and nights he talked of this without ceasing. He was a great Bible student, and had known the Israel-Kingdom Truth. for some 60 years, and would have no wish to believe such a disturbing matter- as affecting the land he loved so well.

All these things give their due weight to so many warnings that are being poured out from various sources and which are being studiously ignored by those who control the vehicles of public propaganda the "status quo" are careful to prevent any awakening of our peoples to the grave developments which should alert them to the plain fact that we are approaching the end of this present evil Age, and the dawn of the Millennium Glory .. when the Son of Man shall indeed return with all His Glory and His Holy Ones as it has been written in all New Testament Gospels and Jude etc...

My friend A.R.H. leader of the Avalon Group. ever since 1958 has been striving to arouse Britain to her dire need of a National Day of Prayer as an official Act of State.

I myself have been led to send to Her Majesty. Queen Elizabeth, a recorded appeal for the same ... Hence. the added warning of WATCH THIS YEAR. now comes with added endorsement of the imperative need, part of which I now quote...

" IN THE COMING YEAR especially the beginning of it. . throughout the months of January. February, March and April-- PRAY as you have never prayed before, nay, in your lives. SERVE as you have never served before.

YOU are the people who can guarantee that the YEAR 1963 is a year of Peace, despite your politicians . despite the Gangsters , who rule COMMUNISTIC COUNTRIES, YOU can guarantee PEACE.

"WATCH THIS YEAR " is an appeal for concerted Christian action and if the True Church of God, and the True Israel of God, called upon the Almighty God of Jacob. according to the Divine Promises contained in Holy Writ, such as 2 Chron. 7. 14- we have the assurance that the Almighty God of Jacob will, in due season, hear the cry of His faithful watchers...Amen.

Yours in Love and Service.

Reg A Bradbury.

MORE ABOUT CHINA.

In the Editors forecast mentioned above he drew attention to his readers to watch China. The following details concerning Red China are not without great significance. This is quoted from Dan Fry's " UNDERSTANDING" Jan. 1963.

THE CHINESE EXPANSION BY DAN FRY.

In the August issue of Understanding Magazine, we carried an article entitled " Food to win the Cold War ", discussing the fact that the U.S.A. has in its hands the most potent cold war weapon that has ever been possessed by any nation. - a large food surplus and the ability to create an even larger surplus at a time when hunger is stalking the communist nations and most of their satellites.

A few pertinent excerpts from that article follow.

MET THE OUTER MAN FROM SPACE?

The Mail. Sunday 5/1/63. By the Rev. E.N. BROOMHEAD in " GOING MY WAY ?".

Well, heres 1963 - and with it comes the very pertinent question. "Have you met the man from outer space ?."

Be careful this might be the year:

As the father of two sub-teenagers I am as interested as you are.

Will the first boy friend come from next door , or from some far off nebul
You can never tell .

What with all the goings on ( and especially the Goings-off ) at Cape Can eral , it won't be terribly long before we're exchanging visits with the on Mars, or slipping off the lodge on Pluto, or even judging a baby show Saturn .

Now just a word of warning-- sheer good taste demands that you don't flick eyelid if your first interstellar caller has green skin , or a couple of ext heads , or even clothing as ugly as your own .

And above all, greet him, or her , with an handshake , and not with a gun .
That slight disparity as to the count of heads or tint of skin , doesn't alter the fact : your man from outer space is probably wiser, kinder, purer , and more brotherly than you.

For the chances are pretty even that intelligent beings DO live on other worlds but there is only a remote chance that their worlds , like our own are FALLEN in other words, other planets probably didn't "go Bad" simply because ours did.
All in all, then neither our persons , or our morals are likely to be in danger when we meet that man from Mars.

But they are likely to suffer abominable damage from the man you meet each morning in the mirror.

And he can be rendered wholesome only by Somebody you may have already come across: The MAN from Outer Space, Who has already come.

We personally have written and thanked the above Reverend gentleman . whom at times we have persoanlly met . and congratulated him on his outspoken refernce to this subject. for he certainly leaves no doubt in the minds of his readers of his views as to the possibilty of such people from Outer Space existing, and more seems to have a pretty good idea of their qualities.
would that there were more like him . Editor.

NEWS ITEMS.

According to reports reaching Western Intelligence Services, the Russian Astronauts are undergoing a course in human hibernation. The aim is to lower the body temperature as much as possible so that a man on long space journeys would require less food, water, and most important oxygen. Credit "Saucers, Space, and Science."

This recalls an article written by one of our correspondents almost two years ago, in which the above was claimed as possible in his article and his article would be well worth re-reading we quote.

"Flight into Space" by Don Alfredo. Calif. vide Vol No 7 No. 2 p3 and 4. we regret that space does not permit the reprinting of this article but suggest our readers look up this copy and read it in the light of the latest efforts and tests being made by Red Russia. Hope we didn't give them the idea. ... Forgive our ego. Editor.

Mystery object in Adelaide sky .

Advertiser 31/1/63

Six people rang this paper late last night to report a glowing object which was changing colour as it moved low across the horizon in the north-eastern sky. The object is believed to be similar to one which had police mystified several months ago.

STRANGE OBJECT SEEN IN DAY TIME .

Since the beginning of the year we have had reports sent into us of a strange object which so far is only been seen in the day time. Our first report came from one of our members who some months before Christmas was stooping to drink at a tank, as he raised his eyes upon coming up he was staggered to see a large circular object, half the size of the moon, in the sky. it appeared to be about half way between the moon and the Earth. It moved swiftly away. and he was so surprised he was not sure if he had not had an optical illusion.

The next reports came from another man and his wife. who lived in the hills surrounding Adelaide. The man was laying on his back sunning, when his eye caught the object as exactly described by the previous witness, he called his wife and finally she was able to get her eyes adjusted to see it.

He is emphatic it was far too large to be Venus in the day time. He was totally unaware of the other report. and the Editor did not know of it either, but another person present immediately related the first person's experience which seemed to tally so much.

almost a week after the Editor received a call from a friend. who stated that he and other members of his staff could see such an object from their factory and asked the Editor what it could be. at first the Editor suggested they were seeing Venus in the daylight which at that time was visible.

The man asked how large it would be if it was Venus the editor told him approximately the size. whereupon the man said "Well it can't be that its too large for that." The Editor left the phone and called his wife but as they were on a much lower level than the observer they could not see anything even Venus. by this time it was concluded the object had passed over .P.T.O.

Then a few days after we recieved information from a very reliable source that Governmental Radar had been trained upon this object for some time and that it had been circling the Earth for some time. Strangely however no news of this or reports have been made of it in or from other States and this appeared peculiar for if it was so high up, surely it would have been visible from quite a few States. This led us to assume that it was not as high up as thought. and that it was therefor nearer the earth and smaller than estimated. The final report to date was on 6/2/63. when an associate, a licensed pilot called the Editor by phone and said he had seen such an object travelling from South to North at a very fast speed. his description tallied with the others. He was amazed to hear that others had been seeing it also for some months and was also totally unaware of the reports which had previously been sent. in. At the time of typing of these stencils this is all to date . we certainly are keeping our eyes and ears open and expecting more of this. but what to us is a mystery is why it is seen only in the day time. for at night this would be a wonderful sight and unmistakeable to note and take details of size and distance etc. we await further news and will include herein if received from other observers. it is possible however the object reported by police on page seven may be the same . but details of this have been very hard to get so, we cannot determine if they are one and the same, object, if so then it would establish that it was appearing at night also.

ASTRONOMER FINDS LIFE ON STARS.

Associated Press. Nov. 1962. A.A.P.

Some of the best scientific minds were stumped when a slender, dark haired man chalked on the blackboard this equation.

The speaker was Dr Carl Sagon , 28, assistant professor of astronomy at Harvard University . U.S.A.

His audience consisted of several hundreds members of the American Rocket Society, gathered for his luncheon address .

The equation was his way of expressing the mathematical probability that intelligent beings from outer space have visited earth.

Sagon explained that his equation "n" stand for the number of advanced technical civilizations in the universe possessing the capability of inter-stellar communications.

"r" is the mean rate of star formation averaged over the lifetime of the galaxy

"fp" is the fraction of stars with planetary systems.

"ne" is the mean number of planets in each system with environments favorable for the origin of life.

"fl" is the fraction of such planets on which life does develop.

"fi" is the fraction of such planets inhabited , on which intelligent life with manipulative abilities arises during the lifetime of the local sun .

"fo" is the fraction of planets populated by intelligent beings on which an advanced technical civilization arises.

And "1" is the lifetime of this technical civilization . ( Cont. p 11 )

HANS LAURITZEN PRESENTS SOME INTERESTING THEORIES.

The following are culled from letters sent to correspondents of our friend Hans Lauritzen, and he has sent them on to us, his articles in the past have proved of great interest to many of our readers who like him are trying to find many of the answers to the things which the U.F.O. "tick". They are actual replies to questions made to him by his correspondents.

Concerning. the toroidal vortex motion as distinct from rotating globules. It is not because I want to be an opponent to the theory of the toroidal vortex motion. On the contrary, I try to make myself fully familiar with these theories, but I must admit there is a certain conflict between them and the scientific information already in my possession. Therefor, I should like to mention to you the factors which cause my lack of comprehension of your theory so that in this way you may see what others may possibly have to object against that theory.

The question then is whether the atomic particles are to be conceived as being globular or annular. In order to illustrate this you picture to yourself what happens when a globule of water and a ring of water are put into rotation. In example you say :

" When a globule rotates, the centrifugal force, which has its maximum value around the equator, is unopposed, and the globule therefor bursts apart. Indeed we have atmospheric pressure pressing in from all sides, but the same atmospheric pressure also presses in at the poles where the centrifugal force is zero. The droplet therefor caves in and collapses at the poles, while at the same time the fragments are thrown out in all directions from the equatorial periphery by centrifugal force".

It is true that the atmospheric pressure presses in from all sides, also at the poles, but we must not forget at this stage that the atmospheric pressure inside the droplet is exactly as great as that outside. Therefore it must be said that the atmospheric pressure exercises a pressure from the poles of the droplet towards its centre. It is equally a question of a pressure from inside and outwards. The droplet held together, not on account of the atmospheric pressure but on account of the inner cohesion of the water molecules. This cohesion is independent of the globular or annular shape of the water drop. If the drop rotates it is torn apart in the same moment as the centrifugal force is greater than the inner cohesion between molecules.

The effect of the centrifugal force depends on the relation between the speed and the curve of its course. The straighter the course, the greater is the speed required to produce a centrifugal effect. The mass of a globule of water is rotated in a course of a smaller curve than the mass of an annular water drop, whose axis of rotation is in the centre of the ring. Therefor the curve of the ring will be extremely great, and the speed is not required to be very great before the ring is torn apart on account of the centrifugal force, whereas the globule may reach a greater speed of rotation.

However, the example of the behaviour of water drops cannot be transferred to the world of atomic physics, where the motion is highly different, the indi-ual atoms rotating at a fantastic speed and ejecting energies which keep the other atomic parts at a certain distance . Actually, this may seem like the effect of centrifugal force , but the parts, nevertheless, of the atoms are not dispersed because the force holding them together is extremely great. A globular atom may quite easily in its rotation exercise a repulsion. Your toroidal vortex atom also has a toroidal rotation axis in the centre of the atom. The repulsion emanating from the toroidal atom might quite well keep other atoms at a certain distance , but the worst of it is that it will also exercise a pressure from the opposite inside of the ring sufficiently strong to cause the toroidal atom to be entirely broken up. Only a globular atom does not exercise any repulsion on itself.

If we are to consider the energy required for the rotation of the atomic parts we must admit that a far greater energy is required to bring about the rotation of an annular atom if the axis is so great, but that far less energy would be necessary to cause the rotation of a globular atom , and thus the globular atom is far more expedient . The transmission of light and other electromagnetic waves, which is caused by the combined speeds of translation , rotation and pulsation of the atom , is more easily performed by a globular atom. If a globular atom and an annular atom have the same mass and radius the radius of the globular atom will be far greater than that of the annular atom, and it will be correspondingly easier for the globular atom to reach a sufficient speed of pulsation. For the annular atom with its very limited radius it will be very difficult to obtain a sufficient pulsation speed to emit light and other electromagnetic waves, and this would require a far greater amount of energy.

As you will see from these remarks. I am a definite adherent of the theory of globular atoms, because it seems as if the globular atoms are far the best fitted for the performance of the physical phenomena taking place in the world of the atoms. You mention that reports in the newspapers and popular magazines frequently give very little information on the actual, experimental facts, just because the scientists of today frequently are confused concerning what are facts and what is theory. But as far as atomic research is concerned, we must say that we have reached the point where we have a very exact picture of the construction of the individual atomic parts. The electrons and positrons circulating around the nucleus of the atom are almost entirely investigated as a lot is known concerning their weight and the quantity of their energy , and of their behaviour under varying influences. Also the parts composing the nucleus, i.e. protons and neutrons, have been examined so carefully that a quite clear picture is shown of their form, their weight, and their reactions to various influences. What is now being done all over the world, is to find out how the individual protons are composed, and it has been found that the outside of a proton is a number of mesons. then a number of bions, and a great number of other , smaller particles are also known . It seems , for example, that the protons and the neutrons of the individual atomic nuclei are linked by mesons of one proton being transferred to other protons or neutrons. This exact mapping out of the subatomic particles has shown that the atoms are really globular .

The periodic table of the various elements is very interesting, But it is not without reason that the octet theory is so popular, as Professor Niels Bohr used this theory as a basis for the computation of the proerties of a number of elements which had been unknown hitherto. When, many years later, these elements became known, it was found that they had just those properties which had been established by Professor Niels Bohr. On the other hand, as you say yourself, the weakness is that it has not yet been found what is the actual reason why the elements divide themselves into an octet periodic system. Taken altogether, there is a field of work for future scientists here, which is: to find out why any given element has any given set pf properties, and what it is in their mass and energy structure which causes them to react as they do to outside influences etc.

Pro. Sagan lecture. Cont. from page 8

Sagan said information in his formula is based on current estimates by astr-omers. In making calculations, he assigned each symbol an arbitrary numerical value.

As expressed in numbers, Dr. Sagan said, the formula means that at least a million of the 100 billion stars in our milky way galaxy have planets which have developed civilizations capable of travel between stars.

" In Red China, at the present time, there are about 35 million persons who are starving to death. About 1-a million of these will die no matter what is done frok now on. The remaining 25 million will probably die unless the U.S furnishes them with food. " ...If we do not feed the starving Chinese we well, sooner or later, have to fight them, and it will proably be very soon. " The dictators of Red China have on their hands millions of still reasonably able bodied men, whom they cannot feed. It is not likely that the dictators will simply sit back and allow these millions of men to die of starvation when they could just as well use them in a military venture.

" Viet Nam, Thailand and Cambodia have no defense which could possibly hold out against the onblought of several million men, no matter how poorly armed and supplied that army might be. There would be no need to worry about logistics, no supply lines, since there is nothing to supply. There would be no need to consider casualty rates, since all of the men are doomed if they stay in their own country. They would simply be assembled on the borders of the countries to be taken, told that their only food was ahead of them, and go and take it. "

The Chinese invasion of India came not too long after the August issue of Under standing had been out. We were wrong on predicting which nation would be invaded but indeed a Chinese military venture was launched.

Late in November, an article by syndicated columnist Drew Pearson had some interesting comments to make on the subject excerpts as follows..

" If you travel along the southern frontier of China or along the northern frontier, as I have done, you wonder why the Chinese push across their border into India did not start a long time ago. ( Next Page. )

AUSTRALIAN SAUCER RECORD PAGE TWELVE

" You also come to the conclusion that the Chinese-Indian war is probably the beginning of a glacierlike human envelopement that eventually will spread out through Thailand , the Malays: , the remains of French Indochina into Indonesia and on down to AUSTRALIA ( Caps ours )

" The Chinese must now feed approximately 700,000,000 people . At the rate their population is increasing, they will have to feed approximately 900,000,000 in ten years . In other words , the popmlation of China will have increased by the present population of United States (187,000,000)in one decade.

" Obviously there is only one way to take care of this bulging population in a country whose boundaries are limited: Exoand the boundaries. If in so doing some lives are lost, this makes fewer mouths to feed.

This more than confirms the great necessity of China's need for expansion the above article deals with their problem of food supply for its millions however to carry out such a great expansion programme means also transportation problems. and that mainly OIL. Any invasion of another country by China whether to overcome her internal problem of food supply or anything else will necessitate that she has huge oil supplies to carry such a programme to a successful conclusion. Again we say watch Red China. and watch the grab for oil supplys. to continue her invasion of the countries mentioned so aptly above by Drew Pearson. and remember Australia you are in his forecast.

What has all this to do with Flying Saucers.? if you havent guessed by now or had the vision to see. the purpose behind the visit of our Space brothers then we can only urge you to Wake Up.

There are those who would have us believe that they have no more purpose than trying to be friendly with us. Your Editor believes as many others do that it is all a part of a Great Plan of the Great Architect who in past ages prepared a Plan for such a time as this. and for a world which would be entirely disintegrated if it were not for that plan . We are all moving to the great curtain fall of the greatest drama in all history. The overthrowing of the systems of this world and the taking over by the Great Master THE CHRIST.

This is the HOPE spoken of by the prophets. without that hope what lies ahead for this war torn world of ours?. Can we honestly say and believe that man even with all his good will and ingenuity to strive for Peace. will be able to attain it. Look around you and see. If you can answer yes to that. then it appears to me that you are blinded ( lack of vision . for which the people perish ) If you can really show a better hope than that of Divine Deliverance. Then speak up, the world awaits your clear call to deliverance. but visions of previous wars and those that followed and the international unrest today. belies the hope of finding any way out except that foretold by the seers of old For those that belive such there IS hope. for those who do not , they are like the picture of the Taro card which depicts our present phase of history. A fool blindly walking along whistling. a dog at his heels. and in front an abyss of which he is ignorantly unaware of because of his folly to look ahead and KNOW where he is going . Where does your Hope and Faith lie? In Man or in God?

A FLYING SAUCER LANDS NEAR ADELAIDE.

This is one of the most remarkable cases of a flying saucer observed so close and having been seen "landed" so near to a city at least in Australia. However the integrity of the witnesses, particularly the mother of the children, leaves us in no doubt at the reliability of the evidence, and the actual incident being a very factual one.

Mrs Ellen D. Sylvester, the mother, is a high school teacher, and indeed a very well educated, and polished woman. Her ability to give evidence places her in the class of a first class type of witness.

The following account is an abbreviated one taken from the actual tape recording of the interview, made by our special Investigator, Col. H. Norris, whose work in the field over the past twelve months has been one which calls for commendation which we like to register here.

Mrs. Sylvester is a resident of one of the close suburbs of Adelaide. and the date on which this occurred was Oct 23th 1962. a memorable date for sightings as this was the evening of the sighting which caused a stir to the police when an object was observed at Pine Point, across the gulf, a few hundreds miles distance. away from this observation. and we consider it is very possible it was the one and the same craft.

The time was 7.30 p.m. and the sighting was made as Mrs Sylvester and her family of three children were travelling back to Adelaide along a highway. they were turning from a southerly direction to the easterly one which brought them into a position which faced the hills surrounding Adelaide. it was on the lower level of these hills that the object was first observed. The whole actual observation lasted about 40 min. and therefore was one which could hardly be classified as an optical illusion or hallucination.

The elevation was about 45 deg. The object was oval and orange in color due to the outline of the sky and sun setting reflections.

A son 9 years old first drew his mother's attention to the object. and it was very clear to all the party. It appeared to be landed on the earth on a level piece of land fully observable to the party. It had three legs upon which it stood. it had windows round in shape and the lad remarked that he could see some people in it. Then one of the occupants got out and came down some steps to the ground. and appeared to be doing something to one of the landing legs. Mrs Sylvester says she thought that he seemed to have some trouble in making it retract, which finally he overcame, evidently some adjustments had to be made to it, as it was on this portion of the craft he worked all the time he was being observed.

The distance from the observers was Mrs Sylvester said a few miles away. she said had she been closer she would have gone up to the object. she had no fear, merely amazed wonderment. The person from the craft was about six feet tall she thought. as best she could determine from the distance as his head reached the outer fringe of the craft in height.

He wore a type of helmet, more like in description to a gas mask of the war type so Mrs Sylvester said. and a drawing is given below as done by the son. The craft also had a light around the centre rim.

Weather conditions were admirable Fine and very clear.

After the mechanic had attended to the landing gear, he returned to the craft and it then began to move at first slowly away. then terribly fast and disappeared incredibly swiftly away. to a northerly direction.

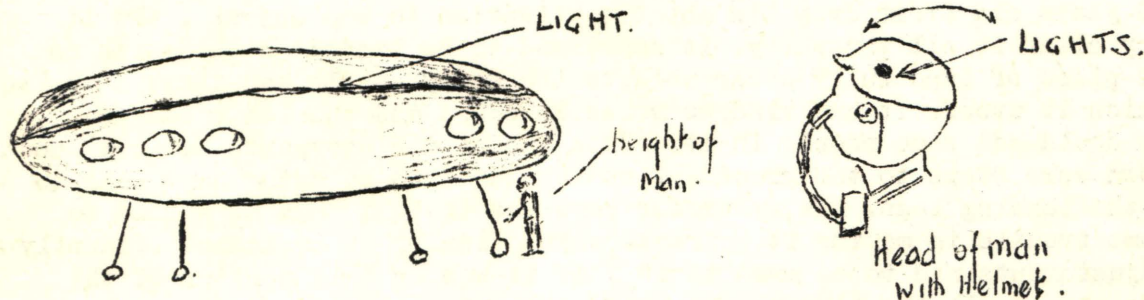

Mrs Sylvester stated herself that she could not understand why other people had not reported it as there must have been people closer to it then they as well as traffic was passing along the two main highways close at hand it seems she said that because they were not facing the actual object but travelling north and south with the object in the east may have been an explanation in that to see it they would have had to take their eyes off the road and look directly away from their driving direction. Also the speed travelled on these highways would not give a good point of view. unless their attention were drawn to it, as theirs was by turning and facing direct east. Asked if she believed in such things and if she considered that a craft could have been from space. she answered positively in the affirmative. and added that it could not have been an earthly craft its speed was too terrific. also that she had never seen any known craft of this size and description as belonging to earth.

She ridiculed the idea of any one classifying the man from the craft as a little "Green man" saying in her opinion such belong to the fantasy world of the science fiction writers and the press. it was here that she was able to tell us the height by comparing the mans height with that of the craft. She was positive that it was not any known object related to earth.

A press man was present at the interview and appeared to be very impressed by the evidence given.

WE would offer to Mrs Syvester our thanks and congratulations for such a very fine account and our sincere belief in her story.

Below the drawing of the craft and the head of the man.

Upon questions as to the headgear of the man she added that there were two lights on either side of his helmet and there was a form of breathing apparatus coming from the helmet down to his chest. (see above) This made it impossible for them to determine any facial features of the man. or the color of his skin. as he was clothed in a uniform which gave no clue to this.

SIGHTING NO TWO.

This case was first reported by the police to the Editor who passed it onto Mr Norris for investigation. and the following is culled from the tape recorded interview. made by him. with the witness.

AUSTRALIAN SAUCER RECORD, PAGE FIFTEEN

Gregory Knight is a school boy living at Elizabeth near Adelaide. and the incident occurred on the 31st Jan 1963 at 2.30 p.m. The objects were travelling from North west to South east across the horizon at about 35 deg elevation. There was no sound, and the objects were all circular and displayed many colours. As compared to the moon they were about 18 in. in length and 5 in high. . . The wholesighting lasted about ten seconds. so fast were they travelling. The weather was fine and a very few clouds. There were regrettably no other witnesses. Gregory said he was startled and went home and told his mother. who at first did not believe him, but as he was so insistent that he had seen them and from his general demeanour she realised he was telling the truth, after questioning him further she suggested he ring the police. who after taking the evidence suggested that they would send out some one to interview him. they rang the Editor who got in touch with Mr Norris. and a tape recording of the event was made.

It is quite clear from this interview and the type of witness and evidence given that the objects were not normal craft, particularly as no normal known craft flashes coloured lights in mid day. and Gregory is used to seeing many craft.

The lad stood up to a considerable amount of ribbing from his school mates when the sighting was made public, but he insisted on remaining steadfast in his story. it was apparent that it was not for show he gave his story and to gain attention as he rather resented the publicity and the ribbing he got from his school mates.

Below drawing of sighting.

THIRD SIGHTING .

The following report from a high school girl does not contain sufficient evidence in our opinion to classify it as a U.F.O. in fact upon the evidence being discussed it appears to be a satellite object. however we publish same, also with the view to let our readers see that we approach all these reports in an objective manner. and when such reports do not give indication of "unknown" we are honest enough to admit it. and thus do not merely give accounts of the main object of our research but include the known earthly object in our work of investigation.

The Observation was made on the 6th Feb 1963 first at 8.45. p.m. and then 10.p.m. this alone suggests a satellite in its repeated course. It was sighted overhead, and described as "like a star" moving over the sky slowly and without increased speed. although the observer did say that it at one stage. It seemed to shoot across the sky and that it appeared to turn a little. we felt this could be the outcome of optical refraction or even atmospheric conditions.

There were several witnesses and they saw the same object on the same course the next night but only once on this occasion. This makes it more apparent that the object was a satellite. However we are grateful to the observer Rhondra Meiners and her friends for their very good co-operation.
